The following terms and conditions constitute the whole of the terms and conditions for the contract between the manufacturer and the customer relating to the Order placed by the customer on the Memory Jewels Order Form on the face hereof.

1. Payment for the products as stated on the Order Form (which Order Form is included as part of these Terms & Conditions) shall be by a payment of 50% of the total sum payable upon placing the order and the balance of 50% shall be payable upon the manufacturer advising the customer that the Order is completed. The manufacturer is not obliged to forward the order until it has been paid for.
2. In the event of cancellation by the customer where production has commenced a fee will be incurred which fee will be determined at the discretion of the manufacturer.

This clause is only operative in so far as it does not negate the rights of the customer under the compulsory provisions of the Trade Practices Act or other similar Australian legislation. In the event of failure to manufacture the product the full deposit shall be refunded together with any unused ashes.

6. The Manufacturer accepts no responsibility for any jewels or ashes being lost in the mail. 9. The customer will supply only ashes in the zip lock bag and shall not place any foreign substance or other material with the ashes and shall confirm this fact by the completion of the Quarantine Declaration Form (International Orders) and / or signing these terms and conditions (Domestic Orders).
10. In the event that any legal action is taken by any Government Authority, person or organization against the manufacturer arising out of any act or omission occasioned by the customer in the delivery of the ashes or the making or delivery of the order to the manufacturer, the customer agrees to indemnify the manufacturer, its representatives, business associates and suppliers, and hold them harmless from and against any loss, costs, damages, claims, liability or expenses including reasonable legal costs that may be incurred by reason of any act or omission as stated above.
